LONG HOLIDAY WEEKEND + WATER = PEOPLE

FOLKS HEREABOUTS were more than somewhat skeptical a few years back when Army engineers told about the recreation use that could be expected when Success dam was completed - but the engineers were right, as indicated by the above photo taken the afternoon of May 24 when Success lake had a capacity weekend holiday crowd. Berl Procter, project manager, reports that camping area at the lake was full by 6 p.m., Friday, with some 1,800 people using that area; day use of the lake over the Memorial day weekend ran 4-5000 persons, including water skiers, swimmers, fishermen and boaters, along with family groups enjoying picnics along the lake shore. As of Monday midnight, the lake had 70,345 acre feet; inflow was 530 second feet; outflow 97 second feet.

One casualty was reported, Socorro Garcia, from Mexico, drowning when he slipped out of an inner tube and apparently could not swim.

DEDICATION SATURDAY AT PUTNAM HOME

PORTERVILLE - Two events of historical importance are planned for Saturday morning - the dedication of a historical marker at present site of the home that Porterville's founder, Royal Porter Putnam, built, and the presentation of official American Revolution Bicentennial flag and Porterville's Bicentennial Commission charter, received this week from the National Bicentennial commission in Washington.

The program is set for 10 a.m. at the corner of Mill and Third where the Putnam home is located and where it was moved in 1888 after Putnam originally built it at the present site of Thrifty drug, on Main street, in 1866.

THE PHS CLASS OF 1916!

A COUPLE of former Porterville residents who graduated from Porterville High school with the class of 1916 were in town over the weekend to start things moving for a 60th year reunion of the class in the Bicentennial year of 1976. At left is John Carr, who now resides in southern California, and George Farnsworth, a resident of Greenbank, Washington. Initial plans involve inviting all Porterville high graduates prior to 1916 to also attend the reunion. More details will be forthcoming later.

PORTERVILLE FAIR - WHAT NOW? We Only Heard

By BILL RODGERS

WITH THE 28th Porterville fair now history, directors will meet Wednesday evening in the gas company office to take an ambitious and important look at the fair's future - and to start doing something about that future.

THREE MAJOR items of improvement will be considered - what to do about the fair's exhibit building; how to rearrange the grounds to relieve congestion; and possible relocation of the horse show arena, all of which has a substantial money tab attached.

EXHIBIT BUILDING, constructed some 25 years ago has served its purpose well, but time is taking its toll, in fact the building has become shabby and unsightly. Two alternatives face directors - bulldoze the old building out, or re-work it?

PORTERVILLE — A Gallup Poll commissioned by the President's Committee on Mental Retardation finds that most Americans express accepting attitudes toward their fellow citizens who are retarded, but some fear and lack of confidence persists. On the positive side, 85 percent would not object to six mildly or moderately retarded persons occupying a home on their block, and 91 percent would not object to having such a person employed where they work.

PORTERVILLE COMMITTEE ORGANIZED TO CONSIDER "DISRUPTIVE JUVENILES"

PORTERVILLE — Eventual establishment of a community interagency committee to deal with disruptive juveniles is one of several goals set by a committee of Porterville educators, law enforcement officers, probation officers, and citizens who met recently at Porterville High school to hear members of a State Ad Hoc committee which has been studying increasing incidents of juvenile crime in California schools.

The state committee members, Miss Pat Toliver and Mervin Feinstein, told the audience of approximately 30 Porterville people that proposals of Assembly Bill 1819 will virtually "rewrite the California juvenile justice system."

Most applicable to the Porterville area is that part of AB1819 which would establish community resource committees to handle those disruptive youths who would be taken out of the home, but also out of the probation system and dealt with on a neighborhood basis.

A steering committee, which developed out of the meeting, will consist of members of the high school and elementary governing boards, Porterville police force, probation department, several interested citizens who were in attendance, and high school and elementary principals, will initially gather materials on juvenile crime and model neighborhood justice systems already established in larger metropolitan areas in the states.

CHOIR LEADERS Juli Peterson, left, president of the Monache High School choir, and Richard Lindroos, vice president, discuss final arrangements for the choir's Thursday, May 29 concert, to be held in the Memorial auditorium beginning at 8:00 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door.

Buckley President Of Plano 4-H

PLANO — Tim Buckley was elected president of the Plano 4-H club at May meeting, with other officers including: Katherine Homer, vice president; Pam Bowker, secretary; Steven Knapp, treasurer; Marilee Sherwood, corresponding secretary; Harold Kempfer, reporter; and Anna Poteet, Carrie Stevens, Tammy Peltzer, and Melodie Corkins, song leaders.

At the May meeting, reports were given by Steven Knapp, 7th and 8th grade party; 4-H Fair results were given by the following: Julie Sherwood, foods; Marilee Sherwood, clothing; Jay Faure, automobiles and small engines; Anna Poteet, beginning girls; Glen Peters, sheep; Tammy Peltzer, home furnishings; Jack Holland, electricity I, II, and III; Paula Doyel, plants and mini gardens; Marta Knapp, food preservation.

Project reports were given by Rolanda Longoria, Terry Luther, Lisa May, Lori May, Anna Poteet, and Lea Spann.

Nancy Knapp, community leader, made several announcements about preparations for the Porterville Fair, Project Book completion and a change in the June meeting due to graduation.

The June meeting will be a picnic held on June 8 at the K.O.A. It will include swimming, a potluck dinner, and installation of the new officers.

Brent Scranton, president, called the May meeting to order; salute to the American flag was led by Barry Golden and Pam Bowker; Brenda Rountree took roll and presented the April minutes.

Walter Doyel gave a slide presentation on the Kiwanis trip to Los Angeles.

BAXLEY FAMILY HAS BIG DAY AT 4-H FAIR

By Mike Flynn

DUCOR — Shannon Baxley, a second year member of the Ducor 4-H club, first won the novice showmanship trophy and blue ribbon at the 4-H fair in Tulare. This made her eligible to compete against the champion and the reserve champion junior and senior showmen for the overall beef champion showman.

The rub was that the junior champion showman was her brother, Baylor, and the junior reserve champion was her sister, Riana.

It was quite a day in the life of the Jim Baxley family, as Riana, Baylor, and Shannon competed in the top six for the top showman. But it was Shannon's day as she and her 1025 pound crossbred calf, "Simon Simmental," were in top form. Shannon and "Simon" won the champion ribbon and were the beef delegate to the "Round Robin."

This is where the winning sheep, hog and beef showmen compete for the best overall showman of the fair, each showing a hog, a sheep and a beef.

Alan Lombardi, Burton 4-H, was the big trophy winner of the "Round Robin."

DAWN HOSFELDT PRESIDENT OF VANDALIA 4-H

VANDALIA — Dawn Hosfeldt has been elected president of Vandalia 4-H; serving with her will be Carla Carter, vice-president; Leighann Milford, secretary, and Becky Rippee, corresponding secretary.

Leslie Laux, president, conducted the election meeting; flag salute was led by Becky Rippee and Carla Phillips; 4-H Pledge was led by Kelly Martin and Danise Mahnke.

The following members gave reports: Diane Hosfeldt, Magic Mountain trip; Karen Nichols, horse achievement day; Carla

The Porterville Fair - What Now?

Figures will be available Wednesday on both alternatives.

LOCATION OF livestock barns in relation to the exhibit building and concession stands creates an almost impossible situation in relation to movement of vehicles serving the concessions, movement of people attending the fair, and movement of animals and youngsters during the fair - all in the same, jammed up area. Alternatives involve relocating the livestock barns or, if a new exhibit building turns out to be the answer, relocating it.

HORSE SHOW arena, which receives a tremendous amount of use throughout the year, has the disadvantage of being located adjacent to the carnival during the fair. Although there has been fine cooperation between carnival and horse show people in past years, the situation is such that it is not likely an official Quarter Horse show will again be approved as long as there is even a small amount of interference from the carnival. Alternatives? Move the horse show arena or move the carnival. The former seems to be much more practical.

GENERAL, BASIC problem involving the fair is that as it grows larger each year in participation and attendance, grounds become more crowded, likewise the parking area. More efficient use of total space that is available will be a major consideration of directors, who, of course, will be working with city planners.

TWO ESSENTIAL

committees will be named at the Wednesday meeting - a finance committee and an over-all planning committee, both made up of fair directors and other persons interested in the fair. These committees, of necessity, will not be "paper committees." They will be "action committees."

WHEN THE Porterville fair was organized some 28 years ago as a community enterprise, support came from many individuals and many organizations. Now it appears that the fair has reached a "rejuvenation" point, and whether or not this rejuvenation is successful will depend on many people and many organizations... We have no doubt but that this support will be forthcoming. We have no doubt but that there will be a "new look" on the grounds come the Bicentennial fair of 1976.

Dedication

Funds for the marker were raised by students at Westfield school, under direction of Helena Martin, a teacher at Westfield.

The Bicentennial flag and official Porterville commission charter will be presented by Buck Shaffer, chairman of the Porterville Bicentennial commission, to Earl Smith, mayor of Porterville.

The public is invited to attend the ceremony, which is an official event in Porterville's Bicentennial observance.

HISTORICAL MARKER was placed Sunday afternoon at the former pioneer village of Plano, with the Plano 4-H club in charge of the program and with cooperation from the Tulare ceremonies; Ella Williamson Young, who told of "Plano Memories;" Rod Homer, chairman of the Tulare County Bicentennial committee, speaking on "Landmarks of Plano;" and Walter Long, president of the County Historical society, who welcomed the group. Lower, from left: The bronze marker set in native granite; Buck Shaffer, chairman of the Porterville Bicentennial commission, who outlined local activities; Bill Davies, member of a pioneer family, on whose property the marker is located; and Brent Scranton, charter president of the Plano 4-H club. Following the marker dedication ceremony, Homer recounted, with slides, the history of Plano at a meeting of the County Historical society in the Vandalia school multi-purpose room.
